

The Wedding Garment

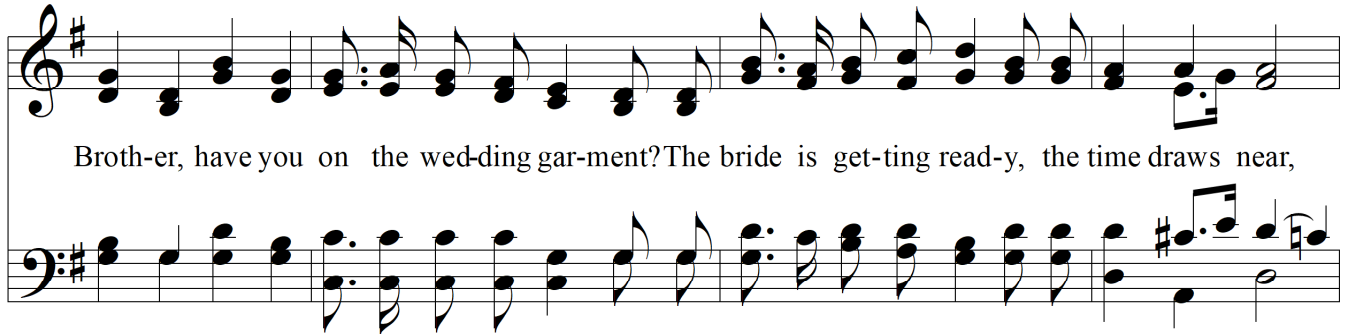

1. Broth - er to a feast in - vit - ed, At the mar - riage of the King,
2. If you then would stand ac - quit - ted, For His com - ing now pre - pare;
3. He shall be with - out ex - cuse then, Whom the Bride - groom there shall see
4. Let us then be robed and read - y, With our lamps all burn - ing bright,

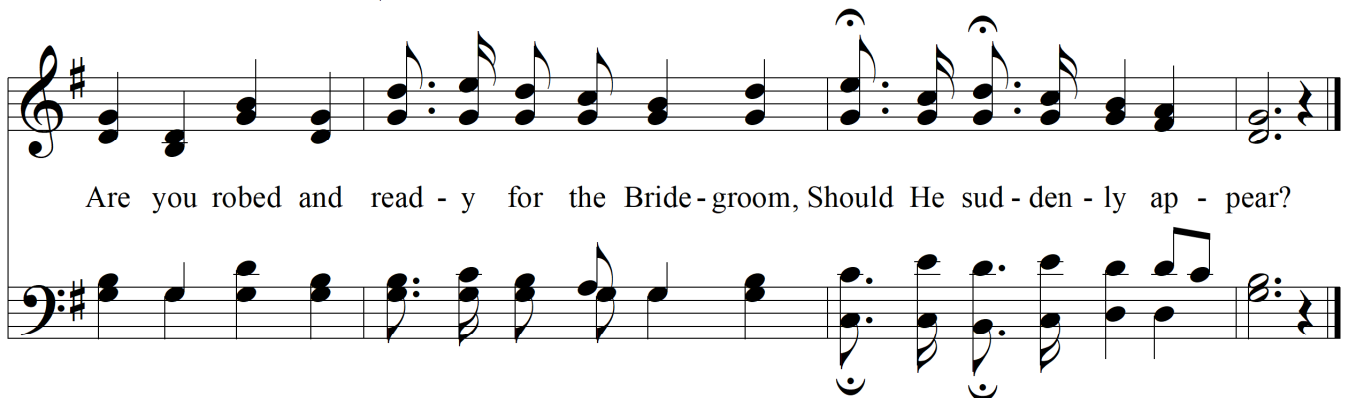

Have you on the wed - ding gar - ment, The cre - den - tial you must bring?
Seek the right - eous - ness of Je - sus, As the gar - ment you must wear.
Hav - ing not the wed - ding gar - ment, Sure - ly "speech - less" shall He be.
Thus to en - ter with the Bride - groom To the mar - riage with de - light.

Chorus

Broth - er, have you on the wed - ding gar - ment? The bride is get - ting read - y, the time draws near,

Are you robed and read - y for the Bride - groom, Should He sud - den - ly ap - pear?
